Mackerel Notes.

About 75 sail of mackerel catchers harbored at Newport on Sunday, the largest fleet seen there in many years.

Sch. S. F. Maker arrived at Boston on Saturday with her large fare of fresh mackerel.

Sch. Mizpah of Galveston arrived at Boston on Sunday with 180 barrels of fresh mixed mackerel, taken off Block Island.

Boston had 100 barrels of fresh mackerel from New Bedford this morning.

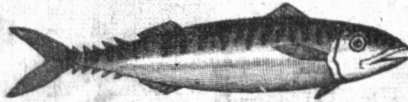

One mackerel was taken off Whitehead, N. S., on Thursday, the first caught in that vicinity this season.

In speaking about the big mackerel day at Newport last week, the Newport News says, "The busiest man on the wharf was Charles T. Powers of Gloucester, representing various fish houses in Boston, New York and Philadelphia, who bought more than any other agent for his Boston firm, J. Conlev. He had barrels and fish-

MACKEREL STILL COMING.

Selmers and Netters Have Fares at Newport.

Lots of Netting Trips at New Bedford To-Day.

Our regular Newport, R. I., correspondent wires the following arrivals there to-day:

Selmers.

Sch. Lizzie M. Center, Capt. Joseph Smith, 50 barrels fresh mixed mackerel.

Sch. George F. Edmunds, Capt. Joseph Graham, 120 barrels fresh mixed mackerel, 60 barrels salt do.

Sch. Mabelle Leavitt, 30 barrels large fresh mackerel.

Sloop Olympia, 20 barrels large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Queen of the sea, 40 barrels large fresh mackerel.

Also several other netters.

All the fleet sailed this morning. The weather is not very favorable. It was a busy scene at the fish wharf here yesterday and hundreds of citizens availed themselves of the privilege of buying a mess of mackerel cheap, as well as watching the interesting sight of unloading the fares. The railroad people put on a special fish train of 23 cars, which were loaded. There was over 2000 barrels of fresh and 100 barrels of salt mackerel in the lot. Joseph Conley has over 700 barrels, filling nine cars. The fish buyers are resting today, but will be at it again tomorrow.

Our regular New Bedford correspondent reports the following netting arrivals there to-day:

Sch. Daniel Boone, 300 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Harrie M. Young, 200 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. My Fanny, 600 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Gracie Smith, 800 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Success, 500 large fresh mackerel.

Sloop Active, 700 large fresh mackerel.

Sloop J. W. Caswell, 1200 large fresh mackerel.

Cat boat Mabel, 400 large fresh mackerel.

ermen and packed barrels all over the wharf and was not sorry when the end came."

According to local belief the weather is working just right for mackerel on the Nova Scotia coast. The first fish, only two or three, were taken in the Sandford traps last Thursday. A few were caught at John's Island, Monday. It is now time for the main school to strike. Catches have been so large on the American shore that the market for fresh will probably be weak.—Coast Guard.

The Dominion Fisheries Intelligence bureau reports mackerel schooling off Liverpool, N. S.

Fishing Fleet Movements.

Sch. Ellen F. Gleason for the Banks, sailed from Louisburg, C. B., on Friday.

Fishing Facts and Fancies.

The first big catches of herring were made at Georgetown, P. E. I., Wednesday of last week, all the nets being sunk with the weight of the fish.

A new device for catching pollock is in use at Grand Manan. It consists of a bag-net with open mouth towed between two boats through a school of fish enclosing sometimes 400 of them.

Good Stocks.

Sch. Annie Greenlaw, Capt. James McHenry, stocked $2700 on her recent halibut trip, the crew sharing $86.

Sch. Lelia E. Norwood, Capt. Alfred Johnson, stocked $2200 on her recent halibut trip, the crew sharing $70.

First Rips Trip.

Sch. Sheffeyld, arrived from the Rips this morning with a fine fare 45,000 pounds of salt cod. This is the first salt Rips fare of the season.

Sch. Gossip Has Two Hundred Thousand Pounds Fresh Fish.

THE VESSEL IS VERY DEEP.

Capt. Antone Courant Exceeds All His Previous Efforts.

Sch. Gossip, Capt. Antone Courant, lies at anchor in the harbor this morning. She is the deepest looking fishing vessel which ever came into this port. That is what the longshoremen say. And well she may look deep, for she is full of fish. Below deck there is room for no more, and she is almost scuppers in the water.

Capt. Courant has been down among the dory handline fleet near Sable Island and estimates his fare at 200,000 pounds of fresh fish, 150,000 pounds of large cod, 40,000 pounds of market cod and 10,000 pounds of hake and haddock.

Capt. Courant has an enviable record for big fares, indeed no skipper has landed more of these regular monster trips than he. On February 27, 1899, while in command of sch. Lucinda I. Lowell, he arrived from the Peak and weighed off 173,000 pounds of fresh cod, which has since stood as the record, although he has come near beating it himself several times.

This time, however, Capt. Courant has put all his other big fares in the shade and puts the record several notches higher, where it is likely to remain undisturbed for many a day.

This trip is the largest fare of fresh fish ever landed by a fishing schooner in the history of North American fisheries and probably in the history of the fisheries of the world.

As prices are way up, it is probable that the record stock and share on shack trips will also be distanced.
